

Way To News

Visakhapatnam port posts its busiest month for container cargo

Higher electronics and pharma exports pushed container volumes up, port officials said.

Visakhapatnam port handled its highest-ever monthly container volume in September, officials said, driven by a rise in electronics and pharmaceutical exports from the region.

Port officials credited new berths and faster customs clearance for the growth. Transport operators said waiting times for trucks outside the port had come down noticeably.

Trade bodies have asked for better road and rail links to the port so the growth can be sustained through the winter shipping season.

Residents want officials to act quickly on local problems, and have asked for better roads, drinking water and power supply in their villages.

Several public representatives, officials and residents took part in the programme.

Officials promised more development works in the coming weeks.

Special teams have been set up across the district to implement the scheme, and officials said they would make sure every eligible person benefits.

Krishna inflows rise; barrage gates lifted at Vijayawada

Water flows through the raised gates of the barrage

Inflows into the Krishna rose sharply on Tuesday after heavy rain upstream, and several barrage gates at Vijayawada were lifted to release water downstream.

Residents of low-lying colonies along the river were alerted and relief camps were opened in schools. Fishermen were told not to go into the river until further notice.

The district administration said the situation was being monitored round the clock from a control room.

Residents want officials to act quickly on local problems, and have asked for better roads, drinking water and power supply in their villages.

Several public representatives, officials and residents took part in the programme. Officials promised more development works in the coming weeks.

Special teams have been set up across the district to implement the scheme, and officials said they would make sure every eligible person benefits.

Record chilli arrivals at Guntur market leave farmers worried about prices

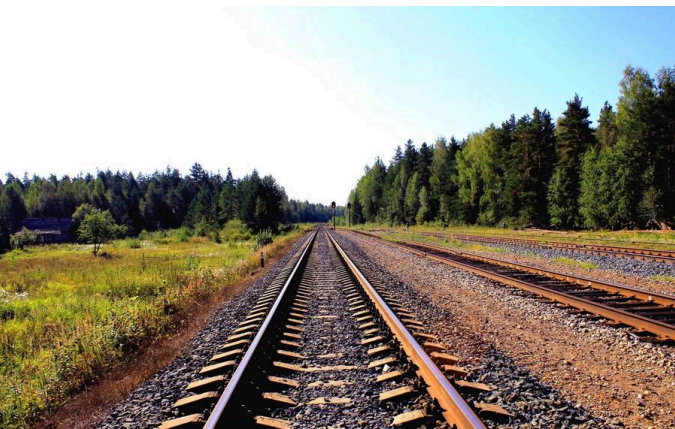

More than a lakh bags of chilli arrived at the Guntur market yard on Monday, one of the highest single-day arrivals this season.

Farmers said they feared prices would fall because of the heavy arrivals. Farmer groups asked the government to step in if prices drop below the cost of

Residents want officials to act quickly on local problems, and have asked for better roads, drinking water and power supply in their villages.

Several public representatives, officials and residents took part in the programme. Officials promised more

Heavy weekend rush at Tirumala; darshan takes up to 18 hours

Tirumala saw a heavy rush of pilgrims over the weekend, with free darshan taking up to 18 hours, officials said.

Residents want officials to act quickly

Metro Phase II: final alignment survey begins on two new Hyderabad corridors

Survey teams began marking the final alignment of two new Hyderabad Metro corridors on Monday, officials said, starting a six-week exercise to fix station locations, depots and the land that will be needed.

The work covers the extension towards the airport and a line through the old city. Officials said the survey would try to keep property acquisition to a minimum by following existing road medians wherever possible.

Residents' associations along the route have asked for public meetings before station sites are frozen. Officials said a draft plan would be placed in the public domain for comments once the survey is complete.

Heavy rain alert for Telangana over the next 48 hours

The weather department has warned of intense spells in Hyderabad and northern districts; schools in low-lying areas are on standby.

Dark clouds gather over the city on Tuesday afternoon

The weather department on Tuesday issued a heavy rain alert for most of Telangana for the next 48 hours, with intense spells expected in Hyderabad and the northern districts. City officials said emergency teams had been placed at known	waterlogging points and that pumps were ready at underpasses. Residents were advised to avoid travel during heavy spells. District collectors have been asked to keep relief centres ready and to monitor tanks and small reservoirs that are already close to full.	Residents want officials to act quickly on local problems, and have asked for better roads, drinking water and power supply in their villages. Several public representatives, officials and residents took part in the programme. Officials promised more	development works in the coming weeks. Special teams have been set up across the district to implement the scheme, and officials said they would make sure every eligible person benefits.
---	--	--	--

Hyderabad startups plan to add thousands of jobs this year, survey finds

Startups in Hyderabad expect to hire several thousand people over the next twelve months, according to a survey of founders released by an industry association on Monday.

Software services, health technology and electric-vehicle companies account for most of the planned hiring. Founders said finding experienced engineers remained their biggest challenge.

The association said it would work with colleges to run short courses aimed at the skills companies say are hardest to find.

Residents want officials to act quickly on local problems, and have asked for better roads, drinking water and power supply in their villages.

Several public representatives, officials and residents took part in the programme. Officials promised more development works in the coming weeks.

Special teams have been set up across the district to implement the scheme, and officials said they would make sure every eligible person benefits.

Several issues were discussed at length at the meeting, and officials were told to complete pending works quickly.

Recruitment notification out for 1,200 staff nurse posts

A notification has been issued to fill 1,200 staff nurse posts in government district hospitals. Online applications will be accepted from the 1st to the 21st of next month. Candidates with a GNM diploma or a B.Sc. in Nursing who are registered with the nursing council are	eligible. Selection will be based on a written test. Officials advised candidates to rely only on the official website for details and not to pay anyone who promises a job. Residents want officials to act quickly on local problems, and	have asked for better roads, drinking water and power supply in their villages. Several public representatives, officials and residents took part in the programme. Officials promised more development works in the coming weeks.
---	--	--

Degree admissions: second round of web options open till the 28th

The schedule for the second round of degree college admissions has been released. Students who did not get a seat in the first round can enter web options until the 28th.

The seat allotment list will be published in the first week of next month, officials said, and classes are expected to start soon after.

Residents want officials to act quickly on local problems, and have asked for better roads, drinking water and power supply in their villages.

Several public representatives, officials and residents took part in the programme. Officials promised more development works in the coming weeks.

Special teams have been set up across the district to implement the scheme, and officials said they would make sure every eligible person benefits.

Warangal opens 180 paddy procurement centres

Farmers have been asked to bring paddy with moisture below 17 per cent; payments will go directly to bank accounts.

Paddy fields ready for harvest

Officials in Warangal opened 180 paddy procurement centres for the kharif season and said all paddy would be bought at the minimum support price.

Farmers were asked to dry their paddy so that moisture stays below 17 per cent.

Payments will be credited directly to farmers' bank accounts.

Officials said gunny bags had been stocked in advance and that a helpline had been set up for complaints.

Residents want officials to act quickly on local problems, and have asked for better roads, drinking water and power supply in their villages.

Several public representatives, officials and residents took part in the programme. Officials promised more development works in the coming weeks.

State kabaddi championship gets under way with 60 teams

The state kabaddi championship began on Monday with 60 teams from all 33 districts taking part in the boys' and girls' sections.

A large crowd turned up for the opening matches. Selectors said the best performers would be picked for the national championship later this year.

Residents want officials to act quickly on local problems, and have asked for better roads, drinking water and power supply in their villages.

Three injured as car rams parked lorry on Nalgonda highway

Three people were injured when their car rammed into a parked lorry on the national highway in Nalgonda district early on Tuesday.

Passers-by took the injured to a nearby hospital, where doctors said they were stable. Police have registered a case and are investigating.

Residents want officials to act quickly on local problems, and have asked for better roads, drinking water and power supply in their villages.

Several public representatives, officials and residents took part in the programme. Officials promised more development works in the coming weeks.

Special teams have been set up across the district to implement the scheme, and officials said they would make sure every eligible person benefits.

600 screened at free health camp in Khammam

About 600 people were screened for diabetes, blood pressure and eye problems at a free health camp in Khammam on Sunday.

Medicines were given free, and 40 people who need surgery were referred to the district hospital, organisers said.

Residents want officials to act quickly on local problems, and have asked for better roads, drinking water and power supply in their villages.

Several public representatives, officials and residents took part in the programme. Officials promised more development works in the coming weeks.

ADVERTISEMENT

Education institute

Contact us to place your advertisement here

Potholes on a busy Gachibowli road trouble commuters

Residents say the stretch has been damaged for a month and want urgent repairs.

Commuters on a busy road near Gachibowli say potholes that have appeared after the rains are causing two-wheeler riders to fall, especially at night when the water hides them.	Residents said the stretch had been in this condition for about a month and asked the authorities to carry out repairs before more people are hurt.	Residents want officials to act quickly on local problems, and have asked for better roads, drinking water and power supply in their villages.	Several public representatives, officials and residents took part in the programme. Officials promised more development works in the coming weeks.	Special teams have been set up across the district to implement the scheme, and officials said they would make sure every eligible person benefits.
---	---	--	--	---

Krishna inflows rise; barrage gates lifted at Vijayawada

Inflows into the Krishna rose sharply on Tuesday after heavy rain upstream, and several barrage gates at Vijayawada were lifted to release water downstream.

Residents of low-lying colonies along the river were alerted and relief camps were opened in schools. Fishermen were told not to go into the river until further notice.

The district administration said the situation was being monitored round the clock from a control room.

Residents want officials to act quickly on local problems, and have asked for better roads, drinking water and power supply in their villages.

Several public representatives, officials and residents took part in the programme. Officials promised more development works in the coming weeks.

Special teams have been set up across the district to implement the scheme, and officials said they would make sure every eligible person benefits.

Heavy weekend rush at Tirumala; darshan takes up to 18 hours

Tirumala saw a heavy rush of pilgrims over the weekend, with free darshan taking up to 18 hours, officials said.

Food and drinking water were being supplied to those waiting in the queue lines. Officials asked pilgrims to follow instructions and cooperate with staff.

Residents want officials to act quickly on local problems, and have asked for better roads, drinking water and power supply in their villages.

Several public representatives, officials and residents took part in the programme. Officials promised more development works in the coming weeks.

Special teams have been set up across the district to implement the scheme, and officials said they would make sure every eligible person benefits.

Heavy rain alert for Telangana over the next 48 hours

The weather department on Tuesday issued a heavy rain alert for most of Telangana for the next 48 hours, with intense spells expected in Hyderabad and the northern districts.

City officials said emergency teams had been placed at known waterlogging points and that pumps were ready at underpasses. Residents were advised to avoid travel during heavy spells.

District collectors have been asked to keep relief centres ready and to monitor tanks and small reservoirs that are already close to full.

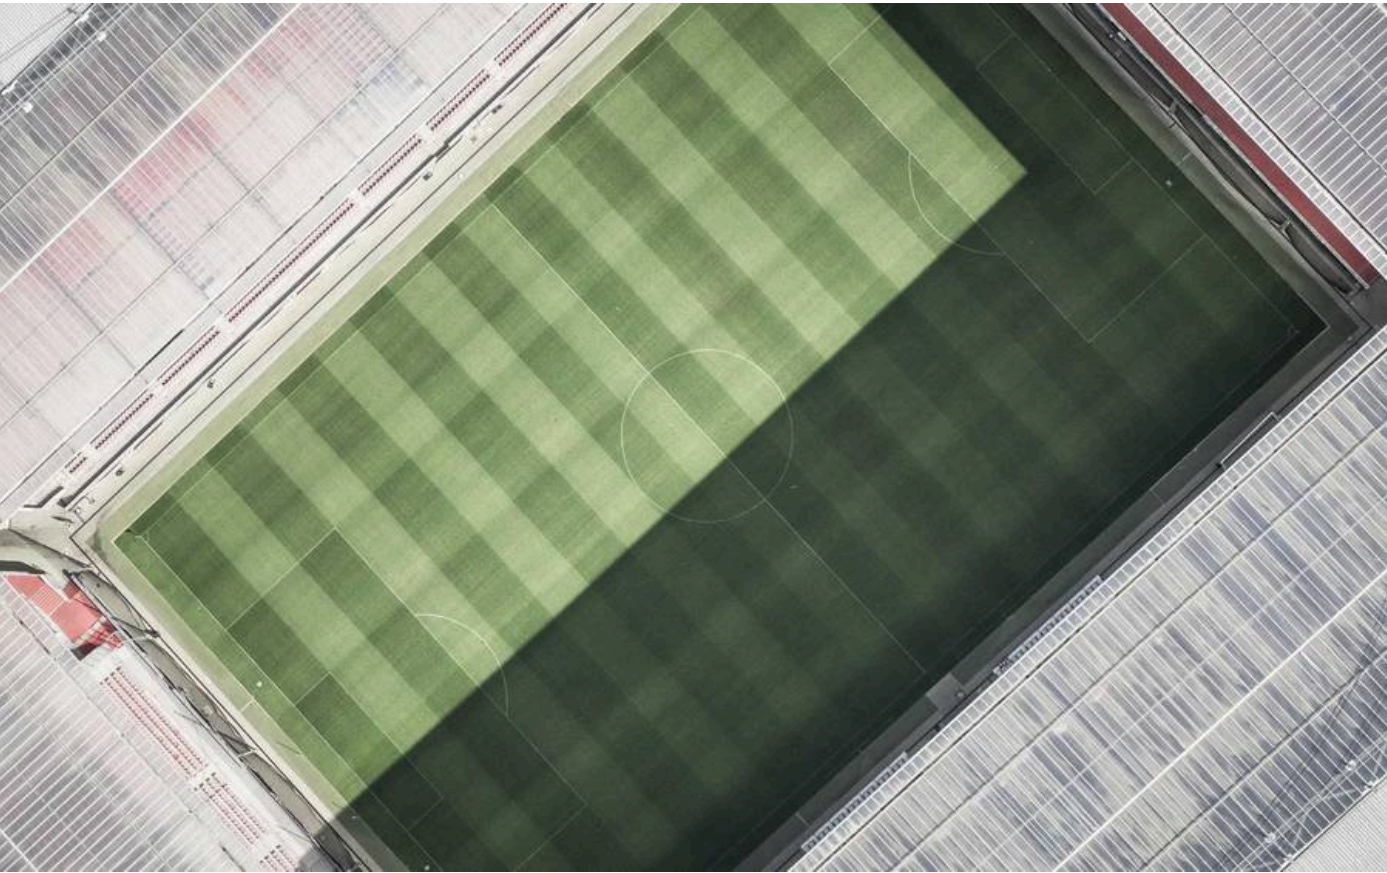

Residents want officials to act quickly on local problems, and have asked for better roads, drinking water and power supply in their villages.

Several public representatives, officials and residents took part in the programme. Officials promised more development works in the coming weeks.

Special teams have been set up across the district to implement the scheme, and officials said they would make sure every eligible person benefits.

State kabaddi championship gets under way with 60 teams

Teams from all 33 districts are competing over three days; top performers will be picked for the nationals.

The state kabaddi championship began on Monday with 60 teams from all 33 districts taking part in the boys' and girls' sections.

A large crowd turned up for the opening matches. Selectors said the best performers would be picked for the national championship later this year.

Residents want officials to act quickly on local problems, and have asked for better roads, drinking water and power supply in their villages.

Several public representatives, officials and residents took part in the programme. Officials promised more development works in the coming weeks.

Special teams have been set up across the district to implement the scheme, and officials said they would make sure every eligible person benefits.

ADVERTISEMENT

Shopping mall

Contact us to place your advertisement here

Hyderabad studios busy again as festival releases race to finish

Film studios in Hyderabad are busy again, with several big-budget films racing to finish shooting in time for festival-season releases.

The rush has brought steady work for junior artistes and technicians, industry members said.

Residents want officials to act quickly on local problems, and have asked for better roads, drinking water and power supply in their villages.

Several public representatives, officials and residents took part in the programme. Officials promised more development works in the coming weeks.

Special teams have been set up across the district to implement the scheme, and officials said they would make sure every eligible person benefits.

Several issues were discussed at length at the meeting, and officials were told to complete pending works quickly.

Metro Phase II: final alignment survey begins on two new Hyderabad corridors

Survey work under way along one of the proposed corridors

Survey teams began marking the final alignment of two new Hyderabad Metro corridors on Monday, officials said, starting a six-week exercise to fix station locations, depots and the land that will be needed.

The work covers the extension towards the airport and a line through the old city. Officials said the survey would try to keep property acquisition to a minimum by following existing road medians wherever possible.

Residents' associations along the route have asked for public meetings before station sites are frozen. Officials said a draft plan would be placed in the public domain for comments once the survey is complete.

Residents want officials to act quickly on local problems, and have asked for better roads, drinking water and power supply in their villages.

Several public representatives, officials and residents took part in the programme. Officials promised more development works in the coming weeks.

Record chilli arrivals at Guntur market leave farmers worried about prices

More than a lakh bags arrived in a single day; farmer groups want a floor price.

More than a lakh bags of chilli arrived at the Guntur market yard on Monday, one of the highest single-day arrivals this season.

Farmers said they feared prices would fall because of the heavy arrivals. Farmer groups asked the government to step in if prices drop below the cost of cultivation.

Residents want officials to act quickly on local problems, and have asked for better roads, drinking water and power supply in their villages.

Several public representatives, officials and residents took part in the programme. Officials promised more development works in the coming weeks.

Special teams have been set up across the district to implement the scheme, and officials said they would make sure every eligible person benefits.

Recruitment notification out for 1,200 staff nurse posts

Online applications open on the 1st of next month; selection will be through a written test.

A notification has been issued to fill 1,200 staff nurse posts in government district hospitals. Online applications will be accepted from the 1st to the 21st of next month.

Candidates with a GNM diploma or a B.Sc. in Nursing who are registered with the nursing council are eligible. Selection will be based on a written test.

Officials advised candidates to rely only on the official website for details and not to pay anyone who promises a job.

Residents want officials to act quickly on local problems, and have asked for better roads, drinking water and power supply in their villages.

Several public representatives, officials and residents took part in the programme. Officials promised more development works in the coming weeks.

ADVERTISEMENT

Hospital

Contact us to place your advertisement here

ADVERTISEMENT

Real estate

Contact us to place your advertisement here